ABOUT US

Stella Pharmaceutical was built on a singular belief that health products should combine scientific precision with generational trust.

What began as a commitment to preserving heritage formulations evolved into a multi-brand platform dedicated to advancing natural and functional wellness across Canada and beyond.

We don't simply distribute brands, we protect legacies, refine formulations, and elevate standards.

Dr. Chase Pediatrics continues a long-standing tradition of gentle, trusted care for children's health. Its formulations draw on decades of herbal medicine expertise, blending time-honored botanical remedies with modern quality standards to support respiratory comfort, soothing relief, and everyday wellness for young ones.

As part of the Stella portfolio, Dr. Chase Pediatrics reflects a commitment to safe, effective products families can rely on. Backed by over 165 years of heritage, the Dr. Chase name represents generations of care, supporting Canadian families through a wide range of health needs from early childhood and beyond.

Since 1979, our family has applied pharmaceutical standards to nutrition, creating bars that go beyond taste to deliver complete, functional nourishment. As pharmacists, we recognized that true nutrition isn't just about protein and calories—the body requires over 24 essential vitamins and minerals to function optimally. This belief shaped our founding principle: applying the same rigor used in pharmaceutical compounding to nutrition bar formulation.

Nutribar delivers clean, balanced nutrition designed to support active lifestyles and everyday energy needs. Made with quality ingredients and thoughtful macronutrient balance, each bar reflects a commitment to performance, simplicity, and consistency. As part of the Stella Health family, Nutribar is backed by three generations of licensed pharmacists dedicated to creating reliable, effective nutrition.
